

We are all epidemiologists....

But do you know what other Victorian and Tasmanian epidemiologists are researching?

Do you know what types of methodologies are being employed?

Have you ever wondered if there are others doing something similar to you?

Come and hear from local epidemiologists about their work, their methodology, the public health implications and the challenges they face...

The Victorian and Tasmanian Epidemiology Group (VTEG) warmly welcomes you to attend a one day networking and professional development forum in conjunction with the Australasian Epidemiological Association (AEA) Annual General Meeting.
